

Choral Scholars

of UNIVERSITY COLLEGE DUBLIN

SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE

WHY YOU SHOULD AUDITION:

Can you sing? Have you ever sung in a choir? Whether you are a solo singer or a keen choral singer, have the ability to read music or struggle with the dots, the UCD Choral Scholars want to hear from you! We want to hear your comfortable, open, relaxed vocal sound.

The UCD Choral Scholars is Ireland's leading collegiate chamber choir and is made up of students from all different faculties and schools in UCD. We are a dynamic choir and have travelled around Europe and the USA showcasing our talents on TV, radio, in concert and by recording multiple albums for release with Signum Records (Gramophone 'Label of the Year' 2017).

How and why you should join:

As a member of the UCD Choral Scholars, you will:

- Receive a scholarship financial reward of €1,500 per academic year;
- Develop your artistic talents and team-building skills;
- Work with professional directors and musicians;
- Record new works for choir or small ensemble;
- Tour with the ensemble, and perform at profile events;
- Make friends for life;
- Have one of the best college experiences on offer.

We encourage everybody to apply, no matter your previous experience: some of the best voices we have recruited in the past had never sung choral music before.

Auditions

Auditions will be held for UCD students in September. For audition tips and information take a look at the recruitment page on our website. Keep an eye out on our social-media profiles for more information.
